The corporate governance of Wacom Co., Ltd. (“the Company”) is described below.

I. Basic Views on Corporate Governance, Capital Structure, Corporate Profile and Other Basic Information

1. Basic Views

The Company believes that it is a foundation for sustainable growth of corporate value, to fulfill social responsibilities as well as its compliance to legislations as a listed company conducting business globally, and to enhance transparency of management and reliabilities of disclosure, which will bring benefit to its shareholders, customers, and other stakeholders. Therefore, the Company believes that its most important responsibilities of every business group are to fully commit to compliance that can realize vision as its basic policy for corporate activities, and to establish and operate an effective internal control system that should continuously enhance corporate governance.

[Reasons for Non-compliance with the Principles of the Corporate Governance Code]

(Supplementary Principle 2-4① Ensuring Diversity)

As part of the Company group’s diversity and inclusion measures, based on its basic policy of building close relationships with individuals, it values interactions between team members, respecting their individuality, and promoting measures that allow them to make autonomous career choices. The Company places great importance on dialogue with each person in its team.

The Company group conducts fair personnel evaluations based on their ability and achievements in its basic principle, and recruits human resources and appoints managers based on their ability without regard to gender, nationality, age, new graduates, or mid-career hires.

The Company conducts appointment and dismissal of the Company’s directors and key executive management in accordance with recommendations made to the Board of Directors by the Nominating Committee, which is chaired by an independent outside director, in order to institutionally support the above vision. In addition, key issues related to personnel affairs for the Company group are discussed at its core team chaired by the Group CEO, and consisting of the heads of Human Resources of the Company and its overseas subsidiaries, and HR members acting as business partners for major business departments of the Company group, and diversity and inclusion are listed as important themes.

The Company's ultimate goal is to ensure true diversity, and to foster a culture in which team members find themselves rewarding and can fully demonstrate their abilities. The Company intentionally sets no numerical targets of specific attributes such as gender or nationality with regard to appointing management level position. However, the Company shall set numerical targets for items which require quantification, set targets for them and disclose the process of those initiatives in a highly transparent manner, based on discussion in progress about "ideal form of diversity and inclusion that Wacom should aim for" and dialogues with various stakeholders.

1. Recruiting human resources without regard to gender, nationality, age, or other personal attributes

Company group has about 1,200 team members working around the world, 60% of whom are employed locally at its Group companies outside Japan, working under local leadership amid the cultural and business characteristics of each country. In key management positions of each business unit, the Company places the highest priority on enthusiastic engagement and ability to realize our mission, regardless of gender, age, or nationality.

2. Creating an environment where people of all genders can be active in both work and family life

The Company actively supports new approaches to where people live and work, the use of childcare leave regardless of gender, and other ways to make the most of telecommuting. As of March 2024, three team members took maternity leave, nine team members took childcare leave (three females and six males), and three team members worked part-time for childcare (same number as the previous year). After the childcare leave period ends, team members had interviews with Human Resources and their superiors and returned to work. Along with the spread of the system for male team members to take childcare leave, the number of male team members who took "postnatal paternity leave" (childcare leave at birth) is increasing. In addition, from the fiscal year ended March 2024, the Company introduced a super flextime working system without core time and hourly paid leave, which enables more flexible working styles, making it easier to balance childcare and work, and an increasing number of team members returned to work in a short period of time or chose full-time work after their leave. The rate of female team members in managerial positions was 23% as of March 31, 2024, and the Company will continue to promote appointment of managerial positions according to their abilities regardless of gender.

3. Hiring people mid-career

More than 90% of the Company group's annual new hires are mid-career hires. The Company selects people based on merit, motivation, and performance, regardless of gender, nationality, age. There is no difference between new graduates and mid-career hires in terms of assignment after joining the company.

4. Creating a flat organization

Under the Company's policy of maintaining a flat organization, it aims to build an environment where each team member can demonstrate their responsibility by focusing on their own initiatives, rather than being defined by whether someone is a manager or a non-manager. Many projects of the Company are implemented by team members of various departments and positions, and depending on the content of project, members with a sense of purpose and enthusiasm may be assigned as leaders regardless of age, job career, or position,

5. Developing human resources through real experience and practice

The Company group is committed to considering the potential of each individual team member and supporting their growth through experience and practice so that each person can make the most of their opportunities. The Company group nurtures the next generation of leaders by giving them actual experience in decision-making with the management team. The Company will continue to pursue the ideal diversity and inclusion as Wacom through dialogue with team members working in the Company and its subsidiaries all over the world.

6. Risk management

Based on the Company group's basic policy of building close relationships with individuals, it flexibly and promptly addresses risks related to human capital, by Human Resources and superiors, and by President and CEO in some cases. It also utilizes a hotline system to send team members' opinions to executive management and Human Resources, and works to foster open culture for speak up.

(ii) Basic view and basic polity of corporate governance based on each principle of the concerned code

The Company believes that it is a foundation for sustainable growth of corporate value, to fulfill social responsibilities as well as its compliance to legislations as a listed company conducting business globally, and to enhance transparency of management and reliabilities of disclosure, which will bring benefit to its shareholders, customers, and other stakeholders. Therefore, the Company believes that its most important responsibilities of every business group are to fully commit to compliance that can realize vision as its basic policy for corporate activities, and to establish and operate an effective internal control system that should continuously enhance corporate governance.

(iii) The Board of Directors' policies and procedures in determining the compensation for the senior management and directors

The Compensation Committee (which is an optional committee and composed of three or more directors of which more than half are outside directors) shall prepare a draft of method for calculating individual amount of compensation for directors (excluding Audit Committee member) with reference to the surveys on director's compensation of the other companies, which are the same size as the Company, and the survey results by an external research organization, and propose it to the Board of Directors,. The Board of Directors shall deliberate and resolve the proposal by the Compensation Committee, and delegate to the President & representative director of the Board of Directors and chairperson of the Compensation Committee to decide the individual amount of compensation for directors (excluding Audit Committee member).

The amount of compensation for each director of the Company is composed of fixed salary, which is paid monthly as basic compensation to all directors, and short-term incentives and long-term incentives, which is paid to directors (excluding outside directors). The total amount of compensation for directors consists of 15%- 20% of long-term incentives and 80%-85% of the following allocation, 60%-75% of fixed salary, and 25%-40% of short-term incentives, of which composition ratio is defined by each position.

Short-term incentives are performance-linked compensation (bonuses) consisting of company performance and individual performance and are paid once a year at a fixed timing. The company performance portion is calculated based on the performance targets for a single year, and the individual performance portion is calculated based on the individual performance evaluation. The both portions are paid between 0%-200% depend on the achievement rate. Long-term incentives for directors are designed to continuously improve our corporate value and share its direction with shareholders. They are composed of performance-linked compensation and stock price-linked compensation, and the decision of whether or not to implement the program shall be made by the Board of Directors every year. The proportion of each compensation out of total long-term incentives shall be determined by the Board of Directors upon the proposal of the Compensation Committee. As for the performance-linked compensation, the Company shall set the performance evaluation period consisting of multiple fiscal years and its performance targets for the period. After the end of the period, the Company shall pay the compensation based on the payout rate linked to the extent to which the performance targets are achieved. The performance targets are resolved by the Board of Directors following the proposal of the Compensation Committee. As for the stock price-linked compensation, in the form of a restricted stock compensation plan, the Company shall grant monetary compensation claims to the eligible directors for the allotment of restricted stock, each fiscal year in principle, upon a resolution by the Board of Directors of the Company, and by having them make contribution in kind using all the monetary compensation claims as contributed assets, shall issue or dispose of its shares of common stock to the eligible directors and release the transfer restriction when the directors retire. The specific timing of payments and allocation to each eligible director shall be determined by President & representative director of the Board of Directors and the chairperson of the Compensation Committee, which are delegated by the Board of Directors.

(iv) The Board of Directors' policies and procedures in appointment and dismissal of the senior management, and in nominating candidate of director

Regarding representative director and directors of the Board of Directors, and executive managers, the Nominating Committee which is composed of seven directors including six outside directors and headed by an outside director set the criteria for selecting candidate and shall make a proposal to the Board of Directors for nomination. To select candidate, the Board of Directors comprehensively takes into main account understanding and sympathy for corporate vision and strategies, leadership and its qualification, ability of business execution and its expertise, and job experience in listed company or global company.

If representative director, a director, or an executive manager no longer satisfies the criteria for candidate selection or violate criteria for dismissal of representative director set by the Nominating Committee, the Committee shall make a proposal to the Board of Directors for dismissal of the said person.

(v) Explanation on the individual appointment, dismissal, and nomination, when the Board of Directors make appointment or dismissal of senior management, and appointment of candidate for director, based on (iv).

When the Board of Directors make appointment of candidate for director or proposal for dismissal of director in office, the Company shall make explanation of the said person in the Notice of the Ordinary Shareholders' Meeting. Concerning important executive managers.

(Supplementary Principle 3-1③ Appropriate Disclosure and Ensuring Transparency)

In the medium-term business direction "Wacom Chapter 3" announced in May 2021, the Company established the vision of "Life-long Ink" and five key strategic initiatives, to continue to provide meaningful experiences for people and society over the long-term, and to contribute to making this world more humane through its technology. Based on the direction, the Company shall aim to contribute to the realization of the "multi-dimensional growth" of the individual communities and people by incorporating new perspectives and ideas that sustainably support "art, technology, and learning" from a medium- to long-term and social perspective.

In the medium-term business direction "Wacom Chapter 3", the Company group sets "Technology innovation for Sustainable Society (contribute to the development of sustainable society through technology)" and "Meaningful Growth (aim to achieve growth with multi-dimensional meanings, along with financial growth), and regards initiatives related to sustainability as important challenge for the Company.

The Company strives to provide wide range of information related to sustainability and investment on human capital and others, by introducing specific activities and examples at community event such as "Connected Ink". In addition, it introduces its vision related to sustainability in its web site.

As a technology leadership company thoroughly pursuing digital pen and ink technology, the Company also invests in and utilizes intellectual property which is an important management resources. The Company has built a patent portfolio by focusing on acquiring patents which has strong impact to the other companies to secure competitive advantages, actively purchasing high-value patents owned by the other companies which contribute to the earlier launch of new businesses, and selecting patents by anticipating future trends of its business environment. In addition, the Company also strives to develop growth drivers as the future revenue sources, and maintains growth of the existing businesses as the current revenue sources, by utilizing patent portfolio in order to maximize negotiation power by appealing to business partners and imitation deterrence by implementing to competitive products.

The Company recognizes climate change as important management issues, participates in The Japan Climate Initiative (JCI), supports for the recommendations of The Task Force on Climate-related Financial Disclosures (TCFD), and sets and announces a mid-term target on CO2 emissions to be achieved in FY2030.

① Governance

The Company group has established an ESG Task Force to ensure that the Board of Directors appropriately supervises and advises on important issues related to sustainability, such as climate change. The ESG Task Force meets regularly to examine specific sustainability policies, and consider strategies, measures, and progress toward environmental targets. Participants include the President and CEO, the CFO, the manager of the environmental promotion section, the secretariat of the Compliance and Risk Committee, and IR staff. Of the matters discussed by the ESG Task Force, important subjects—particularly those related to management risks and opportunities—are reported annually to the Board of Directors, which includes outside directors.

② Strategy

Through the ESG Task Force, the Company group collects data within the parameters necessary to identify and assess climate change-related risks and opportunities and analyzes the degree of business impact. In considering and analyzing the degree of impact and potential countermeasures, the Company evaluates the degree of impact qualitatively and quantitatively, utilizing scenarios published by the International Energy Agency (IEA) and the Intergovernmental Panel on Climate Change (IPCC).

The Company conducted scenario analysis during the fiscal year ended March 2023 based on two scenarios: a world in which global warming becomes more serious (4°C scenario) and a world in which the transition to decarbonization accelerates (1.5°C scenario), and analyzed possible impact as of the year 2030. In the process of analysis, the Company recognizes direct impact such as physical risks such as flood damage due to weather disasters at domestic and especially overseas bases, and transition risk for decarbonization including carbon pricing in consideration of its groups' CO2 emissions. On the other hand, the Company recognizes the potential business opportunities through its products and services that meet new customer needs, due to changes in various market trends aimed at climate change countermeasures and adaption, which is expected to increase demand for pen tablet products in various situations such as when whole society goes paperless. Based on the above study and analysis, the Company believes that addressing to climate change is not only measures for avoiding and mitigating its group's risks, but also its group's key issue from the perspective of contribution to society, and will strive to promote these initiatives though integrating climate-related issues into its corporate strategy. For more details of analysis, the Company discloses them on its website.

③ Risk Management

The Company group's climate change risk management framework is integrated and managed with other risk management processes by the Compliance Risk Committee, chaired by the Group CEO. The managers of each department, including its overseas subsidiaries, are required to report to this committee in the event of realized risks or material significant changes in the occurrence or predicted risks. The ESG Task Force identifies and evaluates risks related to climate change issues. For the related risks with a significant potential impact on the Company, the ESG Task Force shares information and collaborates with the Compliance Risk Committee to ensure appropriate management and supervision and minimize their potential impact on to the Company. These activities are regularly reported to the Board of Directors by its Group CEO.

④ Metrics and targets

As part of response to climate change, the Company participates in the Japan Climate Initiative (JCI) and have set and announced an intermediate target for CO2 emissions to be achieved by fiscal year 2030 in order to achieve carbon neutrality by 2050. The Company aimed to reduce CO2 emissions by 48% by 2030 compared to 2014 as the base year only for Japan, however, revised its target to global target to reduce GHG Scope 1 and 2 emissions by 80% and Scope 3 emissions by 25% compared to 2021 as the base year..

The Company group disclosed its activities related to greenhouse gas emissions and specific CO2 emissions reduction on its website, updating according to the progress and changes in external requests.

The Company discloses its environmental activities in "Eco Initiatives" on its website.

[Incentives]

Incentive Policies for Directors	Performance-linked compensation
----------------------------------	---------------------------------

Supplementary Explanation

The amount of compensation for each director of the Company is composed of fixed salary, which is paid monthly as basic compensation to all directors, and short-term incentives and long-term incentives, which is paid to directors (excluding outside directors). The total amount of compensation for directors consists of 15%- 20% of long-term incentives and 80%-85% of the following allocation, 60%-75% of fixed salary and 25%-40% of short-term incentives, of which composition ratio is defined by each position.

Short-term incentives are performance-linked compensation (bonuses) consisting of company performance and individual performance and are paid once a year at a fixed timing.

The company performance portion is calculated based on the performance targets for a single year, and the individual performance portion is calculated based on the individual performance evaluation.

The both portions are paid between 0%-200% depend on the achievement rate.

Long-term incentives for directors are composed of performance-linked compensation and stock price-linked compensation, and the decision of whether or not to implement the program shall be made by the Board of Directors every year. The proportion of each compensation out of total long-term incentives shall be determined by the Board of Directors upon the proposal of the Compensation Committee. As for the performance-linked compensation, the Company shall set the performance evaluation period consisting of multiple fiscal years and its performance targets for the period. After the end of the period, the Company shall pay the compensation based on the payout rate linked to the extent to which the performance targets are achieved. The performance targets are resolved by the Board of Directors following the proposal of the Compensation Committee. As for the stock price-linked compensation, in the form of a restricted stock compensation plan, the Company shall grant monetary compensation claims to the eligible directors for the allotment of restricted stock, each fiscal year in principle, upon a resolution by the Board of Directors of the Company, and by having them make contribution in kind using all the monetary compensation claims as contributed assets, shall issue or dispose of its shares of common stock to the eligible directors and release the transfer restriction when the directors retire. In addition, the total number of shares of common stock to be issued or disposed of by the Company under the Plan shall be up to 200,000 shares per year. And the amount to be paid in per share shall be the closing price of the Company's common stock on the Tokyo Stock Exchange on a business day prior to the date of each resolution by the Board of Directors. The specific timing of payments and allocation to each eligible director shall be determined by President & representative director of the Board of Directors and the chairperson of the Compensation Committee, which are delegated by the Board of Directors.

2. Matters on Functions such as Business Execution, Auditing, Oversight, Nomination, and Compensation Decisions (Overview of Current Corporate Governance System)

The Company adopts a Company with Audit Committee (from June 2015), and makes prompt and appropriate decisions covering whole range of corporate management at the Board of Directors held monthly in general.

The nine directors of the Company, including three Audit Committee members, are responsible for supervising the performance of management by examining the determination of management policy, the establishment of execution plan and the progress of implementation. In addition, the Company appoints representative director of the Company as group CEO and assigns responsible person to each business unit to accelerate speed of business execution and enhance its responsiveness to changes in business environment. The Company regularly holds the Executive Committee and examines progress of the business plan of each business unit together with individual issues related to business execution from the practical perspective for necessary actions. Responsible person assigned to each affiliated company establishes and operates internal control system at each affiliated company, ensuring the appropriateness of doing businesses and its approval processes.

Each Audit Committee member attends important meetings such as the Board of Directors to monitor execution of duties by directors. In addition, the Audit Committee annually formulates program and policies for audit and discusses with group CEO.

In April 2017, the Company established the Nominating Committee, of which an outside director takes office as a chairperson, to formulate selection criteria of candidate for representative director, directors of the Board of Directors and important executive managers, and make proposal to the Board of Directors.

Concerning selections of candidate for appointment, the Company’s policy stands on no discriminations such as nationality and gender.

On November 26, 2018, the Company established the Compensation Committee, of which an outside director takes office as a chairperson, to advise and make proposal for formulation of compensation policy for representative director and directors of the Board of Directors, institutional design of compensation scheme, and others.

3. Reasons for Adoption of Current Corporate Governance System

In June 2015, the Company changed to a Company with Audit Committee from a Company with Corporate Auditors. The Audit Committee members participate in resolution as a director at the Board of Directors, holding authority for auditing as Corporate Auditors. The reason to change was to enhance supervisory function and accelerate speed of decision-making of the Board of Directors.
